- Although I have been working here for 2 months, I and my team are happy We are working on a project. I found my team to be very cohesive and focused. But in any work there are mistakes. I had mistakes too. But highly qualified coaches helped. We basically developed the website. As a team, I converted 8 pages of the Afeme website from figma to a website view, making it responsive to any device. Then I also did the side of linking this site to the backend. Now the site is working without errors. Because I follow the technical aspects.
